The court conducted an hearing on supervised release revocation on July 25, 2012. The United States was represented by AUSA Andrew Friedman and the defendant by Richard Troberman. The proceedings were digitally recorded.

Defendant had been sentenced on or about July 17, 2006 by the Honorable James L. Robart on a charge of distribution of LSD. The Court sentenced him to 60 months in custody, followed by five years supervised release.

PRIOR VIOLATIONS AND REVOCATION

The Court revoked supervised release on July 25, 2011, finding ten violations including several new criminal offenses. The Court sentenced defendant to 12 months and 01 one day in custody, followed by 47 months of supervised release.

02 CURRENT ALLEGED VIOLATIONS

03 In an application dated June 15, 2012, U.S. Probation Officer Donald E. Moon
04 alleged the following five violations of the conditions of supervised release:

05 1. Failing to give timely notice to probation officer of a change of residence, on or
06 before June 14, 2012;

07 2. Failing to give timely notice to probation officer of a change in employment, on or
08 before June 14, 2012;

09 3. Failing to report to probation officer as directed on June 15, 2012;

10 4. Failing to submit a truthful monthly report to probation office for May, 2012; and

11 5. Failing to notify the probation officer within 72 hours of being arrested or 12 questioned by a law enforcement officer, on or about May 27, 2012.

13
14 Defendant was advised in full as to those charges and as to his constitutional rights.

15 Defendant admitted alleged violations 1,3 and 4 as identified above, and waived any
16 evidentiary hearing as to whether they occurred. The government moved to dismiss violations
17 2 and 5.

18 I therefore recommend the Court find defendant violated his supervised release as 19 alleged in violations 1, 3 and 4, that the Court dismiss violation 2 and 5, and that the Court
20 conduct a hearing limited to the issue of disposition. The disposition hearing is scheduled
21 before Judge Robart on August 10, 2012 at 2:30 p.m.

22 Pending a final determination by the Court, defendant has been detained.

01 DATED this 25 day of July, 2012.
